What is a Rotaract Club? A Rotaract Club is a type of Rotary membership for adults ages 18 and older that provides opportunities for leadership development, professional growth, fellowship, and service. Rotaract clubs may be either university based or community based and are self-governing and self-supporting partners in Rotary service. They are part of a Rotary District in which they are located and are required to operate in accordance with the constitutional documents, policies, and bylaws of Rotary International, as well as the bylaws and policies of their Rotary district.

University-Based Rotaract Clubs are based at a college or university. Their membership is primarily students. Activities are often scheduled around the academic calendar. Emphasis is placed on leadership development, service, and fellowship and professional growth among students.

Community-Based Rotaract Clubs are not affiliated with a specific educational institution. They operate year-round and emphasize community service, leadership and fellowship.
